Work on the new building erected by the Logan Mfg. Co. is being pushed rapidly and will soon be under roof.

Gus Magoon has returned from his trip to Findlay, and is much pleased with what he saw in that region.

It is rumored that G. G. Gage has Eli West's umbrella. A special grand jury will look after this matter.

Rev. Moore, pastor of the Presbyterian church, preached a stirring sermon on dancing Sunday evening last.

Chas. Hamilton, for many years chief engineer at Baird's furnace, left with his family for Birmingham, Alabama, this week.

L. G. Kilbourn, President and Ellis Lovejoy, chemist, of the title company at Union Furnace were in Logan Monday.

E. M. West has bought out the hardware store of W. P. Mathias & Co. He is to take possession about the first of March.

We failed to note last week the late arrival of a brand new boy at the home of Henry Gompl. Congratulations are in order all the same, though, Henry.

Charlie Nunemaker, one of the prominent young Democrats of Ward township called on us Saturday. He reports the forces in good shape and ready for the spring campaign.

Will Price has rented the room formerly occupied by Squire Wm. Davey in the Court House and will open up a law office there in a short time. It is a well located office.

Frank Baird can drive a cyclone if he can get it in harness. Any man that is so successful in training Texas ponies as Frank will do to trust with anything that has a tendency to run wild.

T. P. Johnston has obtained a pension of $4.00 per month for Joseph Wynd of Haydenville. Also one of $4.00 per month for John C. Burritt of Logan. Burritt receives back pay from Nov. 10, 1867.

Tritle, Stiers & Co. are now receiving one of the largest stock of dry goods ever brought to the city. This firm is always one of the first in the market and with stock unexcelled.

Mrs. M. M. Rarick, and two of her children, Chas. and Lawrence, of Zanesville, are visiting N. J. Weiland and other relatives of Logan. The children presented Master Frank Weiland with a fine rat terrier pup, of which Master Frank is very proud.

The last word George Werk said before he started for Gallipoli, was: "Be sure and send me the Sentinel."

Clarence Gardner, of Columbus, train dispatcher on the Toledo division of the C. H. V. & T. R. R. attended the Crescent club dance Monday evening.

Mr. J. E. Tutsch left for Cincinnati Monday morning, and from there will go to Findlay. He will be absent about ten days and will take a good look over the oil field in Northern Ohio.

While it has not been definitely settled, there does not seem to be any question but what the gas well will be put down on the Gallagher land a short distance southwest of Frank Kessler's furniture factory. That will be a very good location.

Twenty acres of land have been bought from N. W. Hamlin for a new fair ground. The land is located about a mile and half north of town on the Straitsville Branch, at Locke's Station. The society will now be able to make a first rate half mile track. Consideration $3000.00.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kleinsmith Monday morning, this being the 12th child that has come to gladden their home, six boys and six girls. We take off our hat to Mr. Kleinsmith, and if there is no objection, Uncle Jake, will take a glass of beer. Long live the name of Kleinsmith.

Frank Belt, who has been seriously ill for the past five weeks, is able to be out again and desires to inform the public that he is prepared to do house painting at reasonable rates and will be glad to hear from any one who may have work of that kind to do.

The Columbus Record says: The preceding Elders of the Ohio conference, M. E. Church, now reside in Columbus. The admirable railway facilities of this city enable them to reach all their appointments from here.—[Lancaster Gazette.]

How many of them live there? Is it not probable that the Record is a little off?

Gus Smith, who has been attending lectures at the Ohio Medical College, Cincinnati, O., has returned home. Gus looks first rate, and says the only thing that worries him is the prospect of a heavy grass crop this season. Never mind boy; another year and you can laugh at the hay-maker.

T. E. Wells, editor of the Nelsonville News, made us a pleasant call Monday during his visit to this city. He reports the News prosperous and everything quiet in the Valley. Brother Wells, we are free to remark, publishes one of the best weekly papers in the Valley and is a loyal good fellow.

The firm name of Tritle & Stiers has been changed to Tritle, Stiers & Co., Ruben Spranger and Gus Newman, who have been clerking for the firm for a long time, having taken an interest in the business the first of February. We feel sure the new firm will fully sustain the reputation of the old, and wish them a renewal of the success won through their enterprise.

Charles Smith, formerly of this city, but now agent of the T. & O. C. Ry. at Corning, O., was married to Miss Gussie Pryor at her home in this city Sunday morning last. Rev. J. F. Williams officiating. The young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends in this city. They left for Corning Monday morning, which place they will make their home.

Pay day this week did not come up to the average of the winter, owing to the inability of operators to get cars. They are more plentiful now, but not so many orders. We have had a good winter's work, and should there be no drawback on account of the new contracts, we may confidently expect the hard times of the last four years about pushed to the wall.—[Nelsonville Register.]

It will, we know, be a gratification, very generally, to the teachers in this section of the State to know that Messrs. Dent and Price intend to conduct another Normal at the University during the next summer's vacation at that institution. The very high degree of satisfaction and educational benefit which all the attendants at their last summer's Normal realized can be depended upon to secure an even larger attendance at the one this summer.—[Athens Messenger.]

The prospects for a gusher at the gas well are exceedingly bright, and news may be expected in a day or two. The wife of W. A. Shultz died rather suddenly this morning. She had been ailing for some time but was not considered in danger. She was an estimable little woman and leaves hosts of friends. Mrs. H. H. Hunter, the venerable relic of the late Hocking H. Hunter, lies in a critical condition at her suburban home.

WILL FRASH'S PLACE

In soliciting the patronage of the public, I would note first, that we keep a complete line of Staple and Fancy Confections, Cigars, Tobaccos, &c.

We also have a Bakery, presided over by a careful and competent man, and are prepared at any time, aside from regular custom, to fill orders in any quantity for and in fact anything that comes in this line. We have Lunch Counter that is not excelled by any. We furnish We-No, Ham, Tongue, Cheese, Sandwiches, Pies, Cakes, Milk, Cider and Wine, and the best of attention to guests. We have in connection with this, one of the best appointed Bars in the State.

St. Louis, Milwaukee, Columbus Beer

always, while in the line of Liquors and Wines we cannot be beat. We ask a visit from the public and will guarantee satisfaction.

WILL FRASH.

Logan, November 4-3m

Tuesday last was Washington's birthday and the Sentinel flag was put out in honor of the occasion.

Little Johnnie and his sister Sue, listen to my tale of woe!

Benjamin Eastorling, who was sent to the penitentiary for shooting and wounding James Henry Nixon last spring, received an unconditional pardon from Gov. Foraker last week, and has returned to his home at Sand Run.

We are sorry to announce that it became necessary to take S. M. G. Decke back to Athens again last Monday. It was hoped by his friends that he was in a fair way to recover, but this change in his condition for the worse is a matter of universal regret.

Homer Wright was called to Cincinnati Monday, by telegram, to take charge of his mother, Mrs. Judge Robert Wright, who was very sick in that city. Mrs. Wright has been there for nearly a month under care of a physician. She was brought home last night.

George Work has severed his connection with Tritle & Stiers, and left for Gallipoli yesterday, where he goes to accept a position with M. A. Cox, a prominent merchant in that city. George is a first class salesman, a hard worker, and a splendid fellow socially, and while we regret to lose him, hope that in his new home he may find pleasant associations and meet with success in a business way.

Mr. Gus Mueller has removed his meat shop from the Centennial building, and is now located in the building next door to Phil Shisher. His shop is one of the most handsome in town. The room has been completely overhauled. Gus has put in a first class refrigerator and the room is lighted with gas. He invites the public to call on him at his new place, where he will continue to be found with the best meats the market affords.

Mr. Henry played to a good house at Remp's Opera House, Wednesday night. Mr. Henry still sustains himself as a comedian. His company is no doubt up to the average, but the people tire of things that were received so rapturously ten years ago. The people want a change, and if the minstrel man does not keep up with the procession he will be left out altogether. The programmes of the modern minstrel shows should be born again. The singing was good and the orchestra the main feature of the show.

The fair at the M. E. Church Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, was not only a very pleasant but a very profitable affair. It opened Tuesday evening, and closed Wednesday morning, and was a success in every respect. The very high degree of satisfaction and educational benefit which all the attendants at their last summer's Normal realized can be depended upon to secure an even larger attendance at the one this summer.—[Athens Messenger.]

One of the pleasant features of the first evening was the fan drill by the following young ladies: Blanche Wright, Mamie Strenz, Grace Finney, Fannie Bowen, Josie Davenport, Bella Brooks, Bertha Blosser and Gertrude Warner. Music was furnished by Mr. A. Wilson and Mrs. H. L. Wright. The girls distinguished themselves by their graceful and easy manner of handling the fans, and their exactness of movements. They were heartily applauded. On Wednesday the ladies served a magnificent dinner and were well patronized. The teachers of our schools, together with Supt. McCray, attended in a body, while many of the lawyers and county officials were also present. The many fancy articles displayed for sale were contributed by different ladies of the congregation.

Death of Nathan Barnes.

Nathan Barnes, a mention of whose serious illness was made in a former issue of the Sentinel, died at his home in this city Sunday morning at nine o'clock.

The circumstances attending his death were, we believe, as follows: Several nights of last week, Mr. Barnes, though able to be up and around could not sleep, and Friday afternoon sent to the drug store for ten cents worth of morphine. After taking a dose, he retired and went to sleep. The next morning, his wife knowing that he had lost a great deal of sleep did not attempt to arouse him. Later in the day his true condition was discovered and Dr. Campbell was called in. But it was then too late, and despite all the efforts of the physicians to arouse, he died Sunday morning.

Mr. Barnes was one of the oldest and best known citizens in this city. He was buried from the M. E. Church at 1 o'clock Tuesday, the remains being interred in the Old Cemetery.

Rev. Thomas, the officiating minister, has kindly furnished us with an obituary notice that will be found in another column.

Crescent Club Reception.

The ball and reception given by the members of the Crescent Club at their rooms in the McCarty building Monday evening, was a very pleasant party, there being about seventy invited guests present.

Dancing commenced at 9 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock an elegant and sumptuous lunch was spread, and served by the Misses Nell Work, Kate Rochester, Maggie Ball, Gertrude Baker, Allie Wilkinson, and Jennie Gage, assisted by L. M. Gear, Lew E. Baker, Will F. Bowen, R. M. Connell, Lon Nailo and Will R. James.

Among the many ladies present our reporter noted the following: Ella Vanatta dressed in cream-colored cashmere and oriental lace; ornaments, garrets. Nella Work, scarlet cashmere and astrakhan; flowers. Jennie Gage, cream-colored abito dress. Allie Wilkinson, cream-colored crepe; diamonds. Ella Jennings, cream-colored cashmere and black velvet; pearls. Gertrude Baker, albatross cloth and pink satin. Mrs. J. B. Butin, cream-colored cashmere; garnets. Blanche Ambrose, blue nun's veil and lace; flowers. Maggie and Lizzie Rempel, bronze green surah silk and brocade velvet.

Pet Hopley, pink satin and marcelles; flowers. Eva Norris, of Athens, O. black velvet and duchesse lace. Kate Rochester, white nun's veil and lace. Connie Grosvenor, of Athens, O. cream surah silk; pearls. Maggie Ball, black silk; flowers. Mamie Blasi, lavender cloth and maroon trimming. Nettie Bassins, white cashmere; flowers. Mrs. Cal Reber, black silk; flowers. Mrs. Dr. Little, black silk and velvet. Mrs. Sam Schaefer, charlotte cloth. Mrs. Albert Melio, black silk. Mrs. Al Brooke, embroidered black silk. Mrs. Dr. Dye, blue cashmere and lace. Mrs. Al Elliot, brown knickerbocker. Mrs. Sturitt, embroidered brown cloth. Mrs. Chas. Schwenke, black silk. Mrs. Ed James, black silk and pink satin; flowers. Cal Nailo, plum colored silk and black lace; diamonds. Mrs. Ambrose, black cashmere, embroidered with white silk. Mrs. Mahlon Shaffer, black silk. Mamie White, black satin; flowers. Fannie Bowen, brown cloth and velvet. Mrs. F. F. Rempel, black embroidered silk.

No expense had been spared to make the guests comfortable, and nothing was lacking to make up an evening of unalloyed enjoyment. Thanks to the young ladies who have taken such an interest in the welfare of the club, every arrangement was complete. The artistic arrangement of pictures and plaques on the walls of the club room, was their work. The elegant supper that was served, was prepared under their personal supervision. The general air of comfort noted on every side, was due to their deft hands and superior judgment, and on them in great part rested the success of the reception.

Council Proceedings.

TUESDAY EVENING, Feb. 22. Council met in regular session with the following members present: A. Steinman, President, G. G. Gage, Clerk, and Messrs. Wright, Kessler, Price, Schlager, Braddock, Creep and Rochester.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

The committee to whom was referred the printing of the codified ordinances, asked for further time to report.

The ordinances to regulate the ale, beer and porter houses where intoxicating liquors are sold, to prohibit the sale of liquor, and the amendment to change time of closing saloons, were called and passed to second reading, and referred back to committee until next meeting.

The finance committee reported favorable on the following bills, and they were ordered paid: Geo. Deshley, $41.67; John Stedman, $35.00; F. O. Davey, $25.00; A. Steinman, $33.33; G. G. Gage, $20.83; Rep. Gaz Publishing Co., $3.00; Milt Myers, $5.40; D. S. Wilson & Co., $21.16.

The question of purchasing the street or road scraper that has been on trial here for some time, caused some discussion. Mr. Wright thought it was a good thing for cleaning up and grading the streets. Mr. Kessler agreed with the gentleman as to the efficacy of the machine, but had some doubts as to the ability of the town to buy it. If the tax on saloons was to be depended on to meet the demands of the general expense fund and the saloons should be closed, he could not see where the money was to come from to pay for such things.

Mr. Wright moved that the street committee be instructed to buy the road machine if it could be bought at a reasonable price. Motion carried.

On motion of Mr. Price, Council referred back to report of ordinance committee and an ordinance granting to the Logan Natural Gas, Fuel & Oil Co. the franchise of the streets for the laying of pipes, &c., was introduced. The ordinance passed to first reading and was referred back to committee until next meeting.

HARMISON & CO.

ACKER BUILDING, LOGAN, OHIO.

Mr. E. B. Comly explained to the Council that this company was one not composed of the capitalist, but of the citizens of Logan, and thought it was nothing more than right that the ordinance be passed.

Council adjourned.

Crescent Club Reception.

The ball and reception given by the members of the Crescent Club at their rooms in the McCarty building Monday evening, was a very pleasant party, there being about seventy invited guests present.
